UPGRADE TO AUTOCAD 2010 WITH SUBSCRIPTION AND SAVE UP TO 30%

Your clients want to work with the latest design tools to help them create a competitive edge. It's easy and cost-effective with Autodesk® Subscription. They will enjoy automatic upgrades, previous version and home use licensing,* technical support, training, and more.

Plus, when your clients upgrade from AutoCAD 2007, 2008, and 2009 versions to AutoCAD 2010 with Subscription* before July 17, 2009, they will save up to 30% on the cost of an upgrade.

But savings is just one reason to act now. After March 16, 2010 new upgrade pricing takes effect, plus many 2007 Autodesk products are retiring. That means Autodesk users will no longer be able to get technical support for their retired software. Visit www.autodesk.com/upgrade for a complete listing of retiring products.
